

How can I pay for the yacht rental?

You have two options to choose: credit card payment or online transfer. Choose the one that suits you best. Are you afraid to plan the trip in advance? It is understandable, especially in the current situation around the world. Remember that many of the companies on Boataround do not charge customers during the booking itself, allowing them to pay at a later date. Other companies, in turn, require a payment of only 20-30% of the indicated rental amount, with the obligation to pay the rest about a month before the planned cruise. This is a solution thanks to which you do not have to worry about your money. It is also worth adding that the Boataround platform does not charge any fees for making a reservation on their website.
